

Full Tilt Poker want to “Deal Me In” pokernewsreport.com/full-tilt-poker-want-to-deal-me-in-10807

October 24, 2012

by Poker Kid

October 24, 2012 0

Details have been released of Full Tilt Poker's re-launch offers to existing real money poker players to prevent the swift withdrawal of $184 million.

The date many online poker players have been waiting for is almost upon us. On Tuesday November 6th, Full Tilt Poker will go live once again and players will have access to more than $184 million frozen in their accounts since the Alderney Gaming Control Commission suspended the online poker web site's licence in June 2011.

Full Tilt Poker's new owners – conscious of the fact that times are much harder financially for many players than they were sixteen months ago and fearing a major cashout frenzy – have already announced the return of the Full Tilt Online Poker Series in December and have now added a "Deal Me In" promotion to keep players at the tables when the site re-launches.

"Deal Me In" Details

The Full Tilt Poker "Deal Me In" promotion will be available to all real money players when the site goes live in less than two weeks and according to the press release from Full Tilt Poker's offices in Dublin consists of:-

- $250,000 in Freeroll Tournaments – the Deal Me In Freeroll Tournaments run from November 6th through November 11th and feature a total of $250,000 in prize money. The prize pools increase in size on a daily basis, with $10,000 to be won in each of the ten tournaments scheduled for Sunday, November 11th.
- Deal Me In Bonus package – each real-money player has been offered Full Tilt Poker's biggest ever bonus package, which includes a cash bonus of at least $200 and a free Rush Poker Ring Game Ticket. New players will be extended their bonus offer, in addition to the First Deposit Welcome Package, once they make a deposit and begin playing real-money games.

- Ticket Sale – players can turn their Full Tilt Points into real-money prizes by purchasing discounted Ring Game Tickets and Tournament Tickets from the Full Tilt Store. Discounted tickets are available for ring games, Steps Tournaments, FTOPS events and some of Full Tilt Poker’s most popular daily and weekly tournaments.
- Happy Hour Week – double Full Tilt Points are available around the clock, with different games featured each day. Players can subsequently use their points to purchase discounted tickets during the Ticket Sale, getting even more value from the Deal Me In promotion.

FTOPS Super Sattelites Also On Their Way

The FTP press release also gave notice of a FTOPS XXI Satellite Frenzy, with hundreds of bonus entries to FTOPS XXI events – worth more than $300,000 in total – added to special satellite tournaments with players being able to qualify for “Full Tilt Poker’s premier tournament series” for a fraction of the cost of buying in directly.

PLAY AT IGNITION POKER - \$1000 BONUS