Good for you for speaking out publicly against homosexuals being leaders in the boy Scouts.

It is indeed being forced down our throats and those who object to it are attacked such as you are on Facebook. 11 hours ago by Raquel Teixeira flagged as abuse - show comment #2

I don't believe in imposing beliefs on others. However, this article makes me sad. Why are we using sexual orientation as some all-defining identity for people. I don't identify people as chip eaters...or brown sweater people...because in our daily interaction, all of this irrelevant to me and even more importantly...none of my business. Even if you consider homosexuality to be harmful to the body...that is someone's right...as it is their body to harm. Also, to assume homosexuality leads to perversion or pedophilia is ignorant, to say the least...basic logic: just because I like something different from you doesn't make me an addict/fanatic. It makes me someone who like something different from you. This world is full of problems...starving people...poverty...pollution...but we're concerned about people's personal sexual orientations and assume that it means they are also sex addicts who cannot control themselves and go after the children. It's sad because you write very intelligently and I want to assume that only ignorant and uneducated people think this way. Why do people feel so threatened by homosexuality? Why does what someone does in their private life that is consensual affect and scare you so much? I don't get it and I never will and I feel a real sadness in my heart for people who have to hide who they are and want to be because people identify them as deviants or abnormal. :(I know a few people very close to me who have come to identify themselves as gay or having same-sex attractions...and if you met these people without knowing that...you would never judge them as a deviant or pervert...why does this one trait define someone?

Surely "queer" is not the PC term to use these days .. 50 years ago maybe. Rather use the correct term "gay".

The title of the assignment was Should queer men be allowed in Boy Scouts? Homosexuals use the word queer when they want, as in Queer Nation. I prefer the neutral term homosexual, but am more than willing to use sodomite anytime I hear that sick euphemism.

OK, personally I don't find it necessary to use the exact title of the assignment, especially if the term is not my preferred one.

more homophobic ranting here....utter bullshit as usual....there is NO homosexual agenda, other than to get bigots like you, Alexander, to stop posting such hateful material....and to get the Mainstream to just let them be who they are. they are not hurting you. they are not hurting your children...they are just as ethical and moral as you Alexander....(at least the ones i know)....it's time for anti gay hatred to be exposed for what it is HOMOPHOBIA and LIES.

homosexuals are not out to convert the world to homosexuality....they just want to be left alone to be gay with other gay people...they are NOT going to be bothering or going after "straights"....this is just pure bullshit and lying propaganda....and you don't even have the right Wing Christian Evangelical credentials to push this hateful agenda.....

seems to me that many of the most virulent anti gay people are the ones most concerned about their own sexuality, and worried whether THEY too might be gay....

it should make NO DIFFERENCE whatever, whether a Scout leader is a gay man or not....what counts is his CHARACTER....just because one is a gay person does not make him/her a sexual predator, like the paedophiles we have been hearing about....those people are NOT GAY....they are PAEDOPHILES....and there is NO connection between them...

some paedophiles like little girls, some like little boys....they are not gay...they are criminals....and being gay is not and never should have been a crime.

as your argument stands, men should not be teaching girls, nor women should be teaching boys, because they might get accused of sexual indiscretions...whether they do it or not. we probably should not have girls and boys in the same classrooms either by that reasoning...

That is not quite what I said. Doctors are sometimes accused falsely by women patients of interfering with them. There are reasons for this. If a woman is chaperoned for an intimate examination, that is less likely to arise. When the police question a suspect perhaps on his doorstep, there ensure there are two of them. Why do you think that is? It is only common sense. Who in her right mind would hire a male babysitter when she could hire a female? We shouldn't get paranoid about family members, family friends and such, but at the end of the day...

In their right mind? It's that kind of statement that upsets me. ...Maybe someone who doesn't see humans in ONLY sexual ways. Maybe I have a male friend who is unbelievably genuine and sincere...oh wait...I do. I don't judge people based on their sex or their orientation...I judge them based on their responsibility, integrity and honesty....what category do those people fit in?

i see what you mean about perceived risk....and i did address it slightly with the comment about teachers...because they are always at risk here of false accusations of sexual interference with a minor, if they don't do what their students want them to do....still that is not a good enough reason in my mind to exclude gay people from being scout and girl guide leaders....the problem is the lack of education....the lack of understanding about the difference between homosexuality and paederasty....paedophiles are unfortunately associated with gay people when they are NOT gay....they are paedophiles....there is a big difference...your ordinary gay person is NOT a threat to young people....they are no more interested in sexual interference with minors than heterosexuals who are not paedophiles.....so in reality there should be no problem with gay people in the scouts or girl guides...they will NOT be influencing children to "become" gay, because people do NOT become gay...they are BORN gay....at least that is what all the gay people i know have ALWAYS told me....and i have no reason to disbelieve them having known some of them since my 20's (and i'm now 61)....and i've NEVER felt threatened by any of them....

DJ headline ~ 'Should queer men be allowed in Boy Scouts?'

... In a word: NO!

This news exposé provides compelling reasons why 'gays' should be banned, notwithstanding Obama's recent remarks. Boy Scout files reveal repeat child abuse by sexual predators ~ Los Angeles Times

Per C-T [#1] Post:

I agree with Cynthia's remark that Alexander has posted a candid and appropriate article on this subject.

Per H-S [#6] Post:

I'm afraid Hans the only "utter bullshit as usual" is your constant retorts regarding views you don't share. Homosexuality is a sin, human depravity, according to the Bible. Its outcome is 'eternal death' in the afterlife; a very sobering prospect!
