

International False Rape Timeline - live hangout (25) - We Believe The Children

Four people turned up at one point including Jack Rebolledo.

I began with a shout out to three similar websites: the False Rape Blogspot, Fictims, and Irish Salem.

I discussed some cases that have been in the news recently, including Zoë Quinn and the suicide of Alec Holowka, the bloke she falsely accused of sexual abuse; the failed Cardinal Pell appeal in Australia; Peter Saunders; and most notably the false allegations made against Prince Andrew by the whore and self-confessed procurer Virginia Roberts.

I discussed the photograph of Roberts, Prince Andrew and Ghislaine Maxwell, going into considerable depths about its provenance, fake and genuine photographs generally, and what does it prove even if this particular photograph is genuine?

I mentioned the manipulation of false rape statistics, and what is almost certainly yet another miscarriage of justice in Australia.

I also covered some genuine cases of child sexual abuse including that of Dr Myles Bradbury. I compared the way the attitude to child sexual abuse has changed, particularly with the sentences handed down by the courts.

I pointed out that genuine victims do at times embellish their accounts, citing a specific example.

The main subject included a discussion of childhood amnesia, confabulation and false memories - including from personal experience. Sigmund Freud, the lost in the mall experiment, the work of Stephen Ceci, public awareness of false memories including plots in soap operas, hyper-sexualisation of the young, brainwashing by Rape Crisis, fantasising by the very young. The case of Kato Harris and that of a falsely accused schoolteacher from New Zealand; lying social worker Suzi Smith.

I ended with a plea for Marie Black.

The following short clips were played: Cleveland Rape Crisis Center, Elizabeth Loftus on the Bunny Effect, Joel Iacopelli, Roseanne Barr.
