

International False Rape Timeline - live hangout (18) - Preventing False And True Allegations

This hangout begins with a comment or two about shadow banning, and some comment on media brainwashing, the purpose of which is to enlist male support for the continued erosion of due process.

I cover the recent documentary on the Nikki Yovino case, which is thematic. To avoid being raped, don't go into a bathroom at a party with two black dudes, or white ones for that matter. And to avoid being falsely accused of rape, don't go into a bathroom with another dude and a teen slut then engage in sexual acts with her. The Hofstra University case of 2009 is another example.

I related a couple of personal anecdotes, one very recent, of a young woman who came on to me, and of another who was lost in the fog twenty and more years ago.

There followed some sound advice from Uncle Al about how not to get raped and how not to be falsely accused. Of course, anyone can be falsely accused of anything nowadays, but men can still take reasonable precautions, and women can still take responsibility for themselves.

The recent Louis Theroux documentary "The Night In Question" was also discussed.

I played that immortal clip of Camille Paglia from September 1992.

What I called Biblical protocols and similar, ie reasonable sexual segregation is another suggestion.

Chaperones to protect doctors from false allegations, and also genuinely vulnerable women from the occasional pervert doctor.

The case of the falsely accused schoolteacher Kato Harris also gets a mention, a man who was saved by such protocols.

Modern technology especially CCTV can protect innocent men from false allegations and also bring perpetrators to justice, including the 10 year old killers of James Bulger.

Mobile phones were much in the news at the time this hangout was recorded because a suggestion was floated that rape complainants should routinely hand over their mobile phones to the police. Finally, I gave a mention to airhead Jessica Valenti.
