

Dear Sirs,

I attach my speech which I hope you will consider good enough and perhaps entertaining enough to present at the Holocaust conference.

This is the penultimate draft; I may make one or two very minor alterations but this is basically the speech I intend to make.

If you want to speak to me anytime my number is 442086597713; I'm afraid I'm one of the last people in Britain not to use a mobile phone but generally I check my e-mail several times a day.

As I pointed out in my previous e-mail, my passport expired in February so if you want me to come I will need to know as soon as possible.

I did point out too I think that I am not in the best of health although the painkillers keep me active, more or less.

I have sent a second e-mail to which are attached three photographs which augment the speech.

Yours Sincerely,
A Baron
