

CAUSES OF WORLD UNREST.

PRESENT DAY MOVEMENTS.

ARE BOLSHEVIKS JEWS?

TWO PROGRAMMES COMPARED.

No. IX.

A new stage is reached to-day in the series of articles on the causes of World Unrest, when we begin a study of various modern revolutionary movements and submit some evidence which may be taken to show that the plan of campaign outlined by the secret organisations mentioned in previous articles is being systematically carried out to-day. In to-day's instalment we deal with the Russian revolution and submit evidence which goes to prove that the Bolsheviks who engineered that revolution and are seeking to foment similar revolutions in other countries are in an overwhelming majority Jew.

The main principles of the Protocols are compared with the Bolshevik plan of campaign, a document containing which fell into the hands of the Ukrainian General Staff some time ago.

The next stage of the investigation will be the examination, in the light so luridly thrown by the secret conspiracy, of the revolutions which have disturbed Turkey, Portugal, Prussia, Bavaria, and Hungary.

"Want and opinion are the two agents which make all men act. Cause the want, govern opinions, and you will overturn all the existing system, however well consolidated they may appear." That maxim of revolutionary Freemasonry quoted by the Abbe Barron in his "Memoirs of Jacobinism" towards the end of the Eighteenth Century epitomises the strange creed whose evolution has been traced in the historical articles included in our columns of yesterday. The mysterious pronouncements, beginning with the foundation of the Illuminati in Bavaria in 1776, down to the publication of the new famous Protocols of Meetings of the "Learned Elders of Zion" in 1903 by the Russian, Serge Nilus, are but for a long period of time a conspiracy has been gradually developing for the overthrowing of the existing Christian form of civilisation, that the prime agents of that conspiracy were Jews and revolutionary Freemasons, and that its object, which it is claimed is now near fruition, is to pave the way for the world supremacy of a chosen people. We do not profess to be able to substantiate these infernal aims; we can do it to draw attention to some of the great forces which in recent years have been moulding government and opinion and to see if they bear any resemblance to themselves and in their effects to the dreams and schemes fathomed by these eager and determined fanatics.

Now, the first point which must strike any student of world movements at the present moment is that men are certainly acting. Indeed, compared with the conventional activities both in thought and action of the men of today, our fanatical brethren who merely sing. During revolutionary days, during revolutionary wars, men were sweeping the world either towards a new heaven or towards the abyss—what depends upon one's point of view. Men, indeed, are acting, and the forces which are moving them are want and opinion! But how follow on another all over the world with the rapidity and concerted action of waves heaving upon shores, and the strikers' protest that driven by want they are out for large increases in wages. In that connection it is worth quoting again a sentence from the Protocols: "We shall raise the rate of wages, which, however, will not bring any advantage to the workers, for at the same time we shall produce a rise in prices of the first necessities of life."

THE NEW GOSSPEL.

So much for want. And as for opinion, great masses of men of different nationality, race, religion, class, and profession are in these days swept and driven and almost consumed by a new gospel which holds bids for the place held throughout the Christian era by the old. This gospel is from the beatitudes pronounced by Jew, Karl Marx, and its gospel is in Jewish, Karl Marx, is openly anti-Christian and preaches the abolition of God, to abolish property, to hand the leadership of the proletariat to the world under an international control. Now nearly all the Bolsheviks are Jews. That is a fact of tremendous significance. Here is a list, the result of much labour, and the work of several hands, which gives the personal origin of fifty persons, who either are the actual governing power in Russia now, or were responsible for the establishment of the present regime there:
