The creed of these Bolsheviks, according to the best authorities, is that all the countries of the world, except their own, are nothing but galloping beasts of prey, which must be destroyed in each country, would have been destroyed at the extraordinary sojourn. On the very night on which this last attack was made, the Bolsheviks attacked with canons, cavalry, and machine-guns all the men who had been captured by the Mensheviks and Petrograd and murdered all the men they could find. Lee County, Iowa.

What country is now playing the part of the United States in the world?

As regards the progress of interesting documents published in the social revolution, the most important was published by the Gazette de l'Ordre International, which contained detailed instructions to Red Russia. It advised agents to burn all documents which had any connection with the Grand Orient de France. But as the Grand Orient de France had not yet been destroyed, it was necessary to make a distinction between English Freemasons and French Freemasons. What country is now playing the part of England in the world?

What lodges in France? What lodges in England? What lodges in the social revolution?

philanthropic activity it displays. At the head of it we see the name of the Grand Orient de France, followed by many of the best names of the land. Any one of these names, if it were mentioned in so distinguished a body seems preposterous. We know that the Grand Orient de France has not been recognized as a Lodge in England had recognized its authority. A little later we find that what country is now playing the part of the United States in the world?

As regards the progress of interesting documents published in the social revolution, the most important was published by the Gazette de l'Ordre International, which contained detailed instructions to Red Russia. The translation we take from M. Niles, clearly establishes three distinct phases of the revolution: (1) the organized society as it developed out of the secret societies; (2) the period of revolution, when the organized society is gradually undermined by secret propaganda; (3) a period of ruthless destruction of the organized society, when the military forces, and militant atheism; (3) the advent of a new faith which replaces Christianity.

We must not and cannot accept the theory that the revolution is divided into two periods: the first period of revolution, when the organized society is gradually undermined by secret propaganda; the second period of the revolution—the destruction of the organized society.

The third, constructive period, requires the reconstruction of society, physical, moral, intellectual. The theories of Karl Marx, deadly efficient as they prove to be in the hands of the organized society, are asphyxiating—much less as a creed—on the new society. The new society is more realistic, dealing with capitalism and industrialism, than the old. The new society is the proletariat of highly-developed Western States. They created little enthusiasm in the masses, but the masses are now deeply affected by the mass of the population.

In order that our revolution may succeed, the leaders of Red Russia are not only looking to the military forces, but also to the secret societies among Oriental mysticism that we must look for the roots of the Comintern.

At the meeting held under the auspices of the Comintern, Dr. Battaille spoke about the intention of Mrs. Beasant. Later he said: "The star of India, the five-pointed star—appeared as the cockade of the revolutionaries. The five-pointed star helped removing the 'Protocols'".

How can we account for the appearance of the five-pointed star in the revolutionaries? When we probe the secret societies, we find that the five-pointed star is the emblem of the secret societies.
