

The Florence Nightingale of Sex

INVITES YOU TO

The 1987

SEX

MANIACS' BALL

The 1987 Sex Maniac's Ball finances the cost of employing a membership secretary for the OUTSIDERS CLUB, a club which rescues isolated and handicapped people from isolation and provides them with the chance to find partners. The money is paid through THE INTEGRATION TRUST (registered charity no 283350).

The Ball also celebrates the 16th edition of the Sex Maniac's Diary (this year called The SAFER Sex Maniac's Diary) and will be hosted by its editoress, now known as the Florence Nightingale of Sex, Tuppy Owens who is incidentally also the founder of the Outsiders Club.

Bring cash for your drinks and the fund-raising sideshows.

The 1987 Sex Maniac's Ball will be held on Friday 27th November, in a palatial building once a Gentlemens' Club in London's St James's, Piccadilly. The address will be made known when you receive your tickets. Complimentary aperitif at 9pm. Carriages at 4am.

This second Sex Maniac's Ball is attracting the same wild people who came last year, most of their eager friends, new enthusiastic owners of the Safer Sex Maniac's Diary, and progressive perverts from around the world.

Sexy side shows and titillating treats are in store to raise funds for the important cause the Trust supports. There will be an overall theme of Safer Sex, ie having the most wonderfully sexy time NOT doing it.

Come dressed to fulfil your fantasy.

Dinner will be served Roman style and spicy snacks will be available with Tequila Slammers in the wild hot cantina.

Tickets now available by post from:
