Dear Anna Pest,

I thought that you would be interested to know that I sent a copy of your book "A Book of Limericks" to a friend in the States and it got a very favourable review in the May edition of his limerick newsletter "The Pentatette".

For information I enclose a copy of the entire newsletter for your delectation but you, and Sun readers everywhere, will be most interested in Page 3. It may result in a few book orders - few being the operative word because the total membership of the Limerick SIG hovers around the 70 mark! Never one to miss the obvious, as a compiler and editor of limericks you must have a certain affection for the verseform so why don't you help swell the numbers by joining LSIG? Except for an annual payment of $15 you've got nothing to lose.

Being a collector of limerickana, just try finding that word in the dictionary, can you divulge if a sequel to ABOL is likely to be forthcoming in the not too distant future. It must be worth thinking about seriously if only because the profits could pay off some of your Poll Tax instalments!

Yours sincerely,

PAUL WESTWOOD

(As mentioned twice in Vol IX No.8 of the Pentatette)
