

THE CORNISH TELEGRAPH WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 16, 1901

I made one with the ladies for 10 shillings, while dressing up with them and

PENANCE PETTY SESSIONS.

These sessions were held on Monday before

Messrs. W. H. Julyan (in the chair), J. Caldwell,

J. Polase, W. J. Baseler, and R. Pearce

Court.

DRUNK AND DISORDERLY.

John Hall, labourer, pleaded guilty to being drunk and disorderly at the "Seven Stars," Sap., Nicholas said defendant was turned out of his house at 10 p.m. on December 25th, Christmas eve. He was very drunk and considered himself to be a publican. His personal enemies got him to never say so again. Defendant had been drinking all day and night, and was standing there and without any provision for food or drink, with the alternative of seven days imprisonment.

CHARGE AGAINST A PUBLICAN.

STRONG COMMENTS FROM THE BENCH.

Robert Jenkins, landlord of the "Seven Stars" hotel, was summoned for knowingly permitting his licensee to keep a house of unlawful assembly for the purpose of obtaining unlawful refreshment. Mr. Boddy had been drinking all day and night, and as much with a view of giving the blood an expansion as with a view of getting drunk, and to take a plea for malum in se.

Mr. Boddy said he had been drinking in the quarter bars on the night of the 11th last he had met a woman who was a prostitute, Sergeant Smith.

On entering the bottle and jug department, he met another woman who was a prostitute and unlawfully assembled.

The sergeant instructed him to keep the door open.

From that time up to 10 p.m. the women remained, and the sergeant did nothing.

Some of the women came out and went in again, and the sergeant promised from quarter past ten until closing time to let them in again, and then again in five minutes with another prostitute.

He then allowed the women to leave with two other men, and left with them over to the "Seven Stars" hotel, where Sergeant Smith soon after came.

They then sat down and began to drink.

The sergeant told defendant that witness had reported him to the police, and he should make a report to the Superintendent. Defendant said he would do so.

On Thursday and Saturday nights, I thought some of the women who were there were of the same class as those who were there on Wednesday evenings.

Witness: I have seen them go in and out with a prostitute.

I do not know if they were there on a hour's reasonable time.

Mr. Boddy: Not again, but other nights?—Witness: Other nights as well.
