

TOMORROW in your new SUN

ADULTERY

It has been said that one man in two commits adultery at some time.

Does it really matter? Does it wreck a marriage?

Read ELIZABETH PROSSER'S startling new series in the Sun tomorrow.

WIN A CAR FOR CHRISTMAS

Eight new cars to be won—and only by women readers. Taxed, insured, ready for the road. Full details in the Sun tomorrow.

JOIN THE GET-SET

Save with the Sun. Every week the Get-Set page brings you a bargain best buy. Get the things you want at the price you can afford. See the Sun—tomorrow.

KNIT YOUR CHILD A PARTY DRESS

The Sun's FREE weekly knitting service for readers kicks off tomorrow with party time in mind.

WHERE NEXT FOR LABOUR?

A candid commentary on the Government's record and prospects by one of its sternest critics, CECIL H. KING, former chairman of the International Publishing Corporation.

In the Sun—and only the Sun—tomorrow.

CONFESSION

Day one of the astonishing confession that will rock the racing world. Trainer Roy Pettit tells in his own words how he doped horses TO WIN. Tomorrow in the Sun.

USHI THE BREADWINNER

The girl is Ushi Obermaier. Profession: model. Known to her friends, who live on her—legitimate—earnings, as "a walking lust automat." Read all about her in a gripping picture documentary in the Sun tomorrow.

PLUS

Day Two of the great soccer Wall Chart offer. Day Two of The Love Machine.

Three special Pacesetter's pages for women.

Original cartoons by RIGBY, COLLINS and POSY. And all the best in news, sport and pictures.

THERE'S ALWAYS SOMETHING NEW IN THE SUN

SHOTS END NIGHTMARE WOLF HUNT

TWO WOLVES escaped from a seaside zoo yesterday—and started a nightmare hunt that lasted two hours.

One wolf ran off towards a heavily populated part of Scarborough.

The other was shot dead in a compound before it could get away from Marneland Zoo.

By SUN REPORTER

Immediately police launched an all-out search over an area of ten square miles.

And four police marksmen were issued with rifles and shotguns.

Other police in loud-speaker cars toured housing estates and visited churches and chapels to warn people of the danger.

The hunt took in a housing estate, golf course and the cliff tops before the grey timber wolf was spotted in a deserted holiday camp.

Sgt. Ken Watson, who was armed with a rifle, saw a grey shadow run between two huts.

He said: "I moved that direction and saw a flash, we were face to face."

As the snarling wolf rushed towards him Sgt. Watson fired twice and the two-hour nightmare was over.

POLICE GET A CAUTION

The referee couldn't complain to the police about the fans' language. The players were polite men—and so were most of the spectators.

He complained to the F.A. who have now cautioned Wiltshire Police P.C. after their home game against Devon and Cornwall.

SUN

THREE sirmen spent the day in bed yesterday. They had played more than 4,000 discs in 144 hours at RAF Catterick, Yorks—and raised £50 for charity.

SPOT

ALL SYSTEMS GO

SHE'S just the sort of gorgeous blonde you hope will smile at you on a dull, back-to-work Monday morning. But there's more to tall, lithe Ulla Lindstrom than meets the eye. This Swedish charmer has a nice line in brains, too. At present she's studying to become a systems analyst for computers in Stockholm. Naturally enough, she's been offered film roles. But nineteen-year-old Ulla has turned them all down. "I'm a serious girl at heart," she says, "and I like being alone." Shame.