

Community Responses to Racism and Fascism

Searchlight Community Handbook

Searchlight has brought together all its experience of combating racism and fascism over the past 30 years to produce this unique and comprehensive handbook When hate comes to town* — Community Responses to Racism and Fascism. It will prove to be the essential reference book for defeating racist ideas and violence.

Searchlight believes it is community based self-organisation that is the best way to combat racism and fascism; to work with friends, colleagues, neighbours and families and unite in facing up to the threat of racism and fascism.

In this handbook you will find all the information that you and your organisation need to tackle racism in the community, including:

Background information on the history of racism and fascism in Britain and detailed information on who the racists are and what they believe.

Action points for almost all sectors of the community, including youth and education, trade unions and the workplace, football grounds and demonstrations.

Advice on how to use the law to stop racist activity.

Case histories of community self-defence with information on how community and religious organisations respond to racism and what statutory bodies, such as local councils, housing offices and the police, can do to help.

Resources and contacts. Detailed listings of organisations and materials that will help you to develop your community response to racism.
