

Through His condemnation, they have acquittal — through His sufferings, peace — through His shame, glory - through His death, life. Their sins were imputed to Him. His righteousness is imputed to them. No wonder St. Paul said, "Thanks be unto God for his unspeakable gift."

(2 Corinthians 9:15)

Finally, let us leave the passage with the deepest sense of Christ's unutterable love to our souls. It should make us ready and willing to present our bodies a living sacrifice to Him who lived and died for us. (2 Corinthians 5:14; Romans 12:1) Let the cross of Christ be often before our minds. Rightly understood, no object in all Christianity is so likely to have a sanctifying, as well as a comforting effect on our souls.

COME, AND BE SAVED

Christ's death on the cross of Calvary has made it a place of pardon and peace.

If we repent of our sins and trust in Christ's sacrifice, God will pardon all our sins and make us clean.

We will have a new nature put in us by the Holy Spirit and be freed from the hateful dominion of sin, the world, and the devil.

"Come now, and let us reason together, saith the LORD: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool." (Isaiah 1:18)
"And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely." (Revelation 22:17)

CALVARY

THE PLACE OF PEACE AND

THE PLACE OF PEACE AND PARDON

Calvary, where we see God's love at its best, and man's sin at its worst.

Calvary, where the Son of God died, in order that the sons of men may live forever.

MARK 15:16-20; 24-28.

"And the soldiers led him away into the hall, called Praetorium; and they call together the whole band. And they clothed him with purple, and platted a crown of thorns, and put it about his head, And began to salute him, Hail, King of the Jews! And they smote him on the head with a reed, and did spit upon him, and bowing their knees worshipped him. And when they had mocked him, they took off the purple from him, and put his own clothes on him, and led him out to crucify him."

"And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments, casting lots upon them, what every man should take. And it was the third hour, and they crucified him. And the superscription of his accusation was written over, THE KING OF THE JEWS. And with him they crucify two thieves; the one on his right hand, and the other on his left. And the scripture was fulfilled, which saith, And he was numbered with the transgressors."

THE SON OF GOD SUFFERING FOR SINNERS

The passage we have read is one of those which shows us the infinite love of Christ towards sinners. The sufferings described in it would fill our minds with horror mingled with compassion, if they had been inflicted on one who was only a man like ourselves. But when we reflect that the sufferer was the eternal Son of God, we are lost in wonder and amazement.

When we reflect further that these sufferings were voluntarily endured to deliver sinful men and women like ourselves from hell, we may see something of St. Paul's meaning when he says, "The love of Christ, which passeth knowledge."

(Ephesians 3:19) Also, "God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us." (Romans 5:8)

Here we see Jesus shedding His blood for sinners. His blood flowed freely from His head which was pierced with the thorns; from His hands and feet which were pierced with the nails; and from His side which was pierced with a spear.

Why was this? Only His blood could make atonement for man's transgressions. Only His blood could pay man's enormous debt to God. By His precious blood a road was made from Heaven to Earth, by which God could come down to man. His blood made a road from Earth to Heaven by which men can draw near to God, and yet not feel afraid. Without the shedding of the blood of Jesus there could have been no forgiveness of sin.

TRUE CHRISTIANS HAVE PEACE WITH GOD

Through the blood of Jesus true Christians have peace with God. They are pardoned and brought near to God. Here is rest and peace for the conscience. The blood of Jesus can cleanse you from all sin. Though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be made white as snow. Here is the secret of a happy heart!

This passage gives us a deep sense of the enormous debt which all believers owe to Christ. All that they have, and are, and hope for, may be traced up to the doing and dying of the Son of God.
