Mark Gatiss stars in this strictly limited West End transfer of the first major revival of this iconic play in two decades. Razor sharp and packed with wit, The Boys in the Band is fresh, startling and brilliantly entertaining.

It’s 1968 and nine men gather in a New York apartment for a birthday celebration. Harold (Mark Gatiss) receives a surprise gift from his friend, Emory (James Holmes), in the form of a beautiful male hustler (Jack Derges). Meanwhile, party host Michael (WhatsonStage Award nominee Ian Hallard) gets an unwanted surprise of his own. As the booze is drunk and the dope smoked, the mood swings from hilarity to heartbreak.

From the producers of the acclaimed productions of Beautiful Thing, Our Boys and Another Country, this eagerly anticipated revival stars Olivier Award winner Mark Gatiss (Sherlock, Doctor Who, London Spy), Daniel Boys (Avenue Q), Jack Derges (Eastenders, Hurricanes), WhatsonStage Award nominee Ian Hallard (Doctor Who, An Adventure in Space and Time), James Holmes (Miranda, Psychoville), John Hopkins (Midsomer Murders), Ben Mansfield (Primeval, Endeavour), Greg Lockett and Nathan Nolan (Undercover). The Boys in the Band is directed by Adam Penford whose credits include One Man, Two Guv’ners, A Small Family Business (National Theatre), Unfaithful (Found111) and Platinum (Hampstead Theatre).
